Looking Forward to Looking Back

Anticipation is a grand commodity. At practically every station in life, it is there to prod, encourage. In the best of times anticipation is present to point to the future-even though the present might be extremely comfortable. And in those unpleasant times when there is no way but up, anticipation offers hope, provides a beacon of guidance, produces a strength that many of us can not imagine having. Anticipation is what keeps us going, striving, struggling, climbing forward and toward the light.

Of all seasons life brings, perhaps none are so filled with anticipation as are those days of college. Students dream of the future. They look forward to a job in their chosen field, whether this job is a first-time venture or a new direction after spending years in the work force. Some look forward to a family, a particular life style, and a measure of success as they view such matters. Regardless of what they envision in days to come, it is for certain that they anticipate.

And college is a logical and functional time for such dreaming. A future lies ahead. New adventures wait. The past is still fresh, yet it is far enough away to permit a forward glance that is filled with excitement. Opportunities are abundant.

One aspect of anticipation is that now-distant prospect of Looking Forward to Looking Back as years encroach. While it is difficult for many at this point to grasp, if life continues in a normal fashion, those same ones will one day reflect upon these days of newness. And for that reflection to be bright, choices that impact today must be considered. Decisions of the present will color the future.

A popular speaker and minister, Chuck Swindoll, often makes a bold and accurate statement: "Life is like a coin. You spend it any way you chose, but you can spend it only once!" Life is now being spent. Is that precious expenditure being done with the assistance of wisdom? Is it being done with thoughtless abandon? That is something every individual must answer. It is, as Swindoll notes, a choice. It is also a one-time investment.

Be selective. Chose the life of integrity, honesty, compassion, and discipline. If you make that choice now as you are Looking Forward to Looking Back, those future glimpses of that past, which is now the present, will bring a smile and contentment.

Student Life

What do I think of student life? Don't you see the smile on my face?

Forget Smiling, where are your spirit fingers?

There's so much love at EC!

Yeah, enough for everyone.

Peek-a-boo, we can't see you!

I would smile, but my face hurts.

The food is great!!

I know I can do this!!

EDITOR

Courtney Puckett

College is a time in a person's life to not only study academics and play sports, but also to create wonderful memories that will last a lifetime. As the theme says, I am looking forward to looking back on the memories of my time at ECCC. As Editor of the 2002-2003 Wo He Lo, I, along with an excellent staff, hope to have captured enough memories to enable each of you to look back on this great year. I hope you will enjoy this annual for years to come. In closing, I would like to say a special thank you to Mr. Tony Kinton for all his hard work with the yearbook that too often goes unnoticed. I would also like to thank the 2002-2003 Wo He Lo staff. I could not have done it without you. And last but not least, the publications department for all the help with photos and cut lines.

Yours Truly,

Courtney Puckett

ART BANQUET

Former East Central graduate Jay Murphy has enjoyed drawing since he was a child. Family support and self-motivation were key elements in his striving for excellence. God also played a major role in influencing both his art and his life.

Having had Mr. Guraedy as his art instructor at East Central, Murphy found the support and exposure he needed to shape his skill and make his work well known. His competitive nature also pushed him to excellence. Now Murphy makes his living as a Technical Writer/Illustrator at Taylor's Machine Works in Louisville.

When asked what he envisions for his art/life in the future, Murphy replied, "I want to own my own business." Murphy's words of advice to East Central Community College students? "Pay attention in school because it helps! Study!"

Those who attended Murphy's exhibit should know that he is well on his way to achieving his goals.

Honors and Achievements

Tommy Clopton, who teaches chemistry, and sophomore nursing student Shancey Foreman Young of Forest, were selected to represent East Central Community College at the annual HEADWAE observance, which recognizes outstanding college instructors and students.

Beth Wedgeworth (left) of Forest and Bobby Martin of Carthage were recently named to the Associate Degree Nursing Hall of Fame at East Central Community College. They received the honor at the September meeting of the Association of Student Nurses (ASNEC) at the College. To qualify for the prestigious honor, students must meet the following criteria: maintain a 3.0 grade point average, demonstrate leadership in the nursing organization, provide assistance to classmates and colleagues in a professional manner, be actively involved in the student nursing organization as well as other campus activities and promote the image of nursing through their actions.

Victoria Daniels (center) of Philadelphia is the recipient of this year's Philadelphia-Neshoba County Arts Council Scholarship, which is presented to a returning sophomore who is majoring in art, music or drama at East Central Community College in Decatur. Daniels is a graduate of Neshoba Central High

These East Central Community College soccer players received various team honors following their successful 2002 campaign. Seated from left are defender Johnathan Shoemaker of Newton County, Hustle Award; forward Seltue Karweaye of The Peoples Institute in Liberia, West Africa, best offensive player and co-Most Valuable Player; midfielder Brandon Ditto of Brandon, co-Most Valuable Player; and defender Nate Alexander of Corinth, team captain and co-Most Valuable Player. Standing from left are midfielder Kyle Miller of Neshoba Central, Academic Award; midfielder Robbie Phillipson of Morton, most improved; and midfielder Beau Theobald of St. Aloysius High School in Vicksburg, "Shot of the Year" award. ECCC President Dr. Phil A. Sutphin and soccer coaches Kenneth Thompson (head) and Roy Pete (volunteer assistant) presented the awards at the annual Fall Sports Banquet held in Mabry Memorial Cafeteria on the Decatur campus. The 2002 Soccer Warriors recorded the most successful season in the program's four-year existence by posting a 9-6-3 overall mark and a 5-03-2 slate in South Division competition.

Travares Osley, a standout linebacker at East Central Community College in Decatur and the state's leading tackler, has been named an NJCAA All-American.

Osley, a 6-1, 220-pound product of Hueytown (Ala.) High, was one of three linebackers in the nation to receive first-team recognition. He was earlier named to the All-Region 23 and All-State squads and participated in the annual MACJC All-Star Classic.

He was also chosen most valuable player for the Warriors, who finished third in South Division action with a 3-3 mark and were 3-6 overall under fifth-year head coach Terry Underwood.

Osley led the state in tackles with 106 solo stops and 27 assists. He had 23 individual tackles and three assists in leading the Warriors to a 6-3 triple overtime win over the Jones County Junior College Bobcats, who were undefeated and ranked second in the nation prior to the South Division matchup. Osley's 23-yard field goal in the final extra period also provided the winning margin for the upset victory.

East Central Community College football players Demarcus Granger (left), an offensive guard from Tuscaloosa (Ala.) County, and linebacker Travares Osley of Hueytown, Ala., were named to the All-Region 23 Team following the 2002 campaign. Both players were also selected first team All-State, and Granger was chosen most valuable lineman in the South Division. Osley led the state in tackles with 106 solo stops and 27 assists. The standout athletes were among eight Warriors tapped for the South squad in the annual MACJC All-Star Football Game scheduled December 14 at Northeast Mississippi Community College in Booneville.

Students In Free Enterprise

SIFE

Students In Free Enterprise is just one of the successful clubs on the East Central Community College campus. The organization is based upon the vision of helping achieve their dreams through free enterprise education. Their mission is to provide college students with the best opportunity to make a difference and to develop leadership, teamwork and community skills through learning, practicing and teaching the principles of free enterprise. Through these philosophies and motivations, the ECCC SIFE found the path for their success. A team of students attended the Birmingham, Alabama, regional competition. There they presented a twenty-minute power point presentation about the tasks that were completed during the 2001-2002 school year. Once the presentation was concluded, a panel of 15 judges had ten minutes to ask various questions pertaining to the presentation. The students answered all questions with confidence and success. With an exceptional presentation to accompany the reports, the students caught the eyes of the panel, representing ECCC extremely well. The CCC team was awarded the Regional Championship with first place in the Regional Competition for Students In Free Entrprise. Their success led them to Kansas City, Missouri for the International SIFE Competition. There the team was awarded Semifinal Runner UP. The total award money for the year through competitions was 2,250.

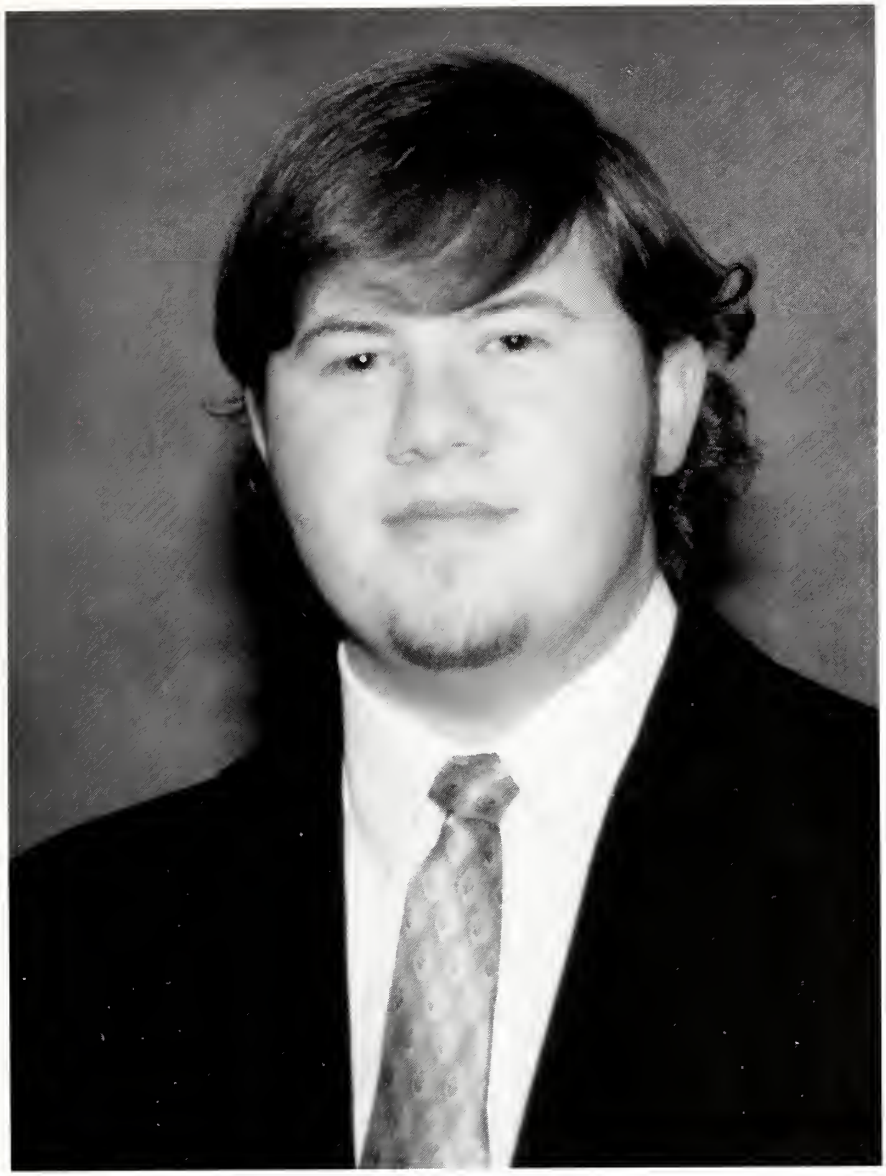
Sarah Allard

Sarah Allard, a liberal arts major, participated in service learning during the fall semester of 2002 for Mrs. Carol Shackelford's English Literature I class and also participated during the spring semester of 2003 for the English Literature II class. Her duties as a service learning participant included tutoring other students in a variety of courses, assisting students with operating computer-based skill building programs (PLATO), and a variety of office duties for the Learning Skills Center. Sarah also played an important role in the 2002 World Literature Banquet on the ECCC campus by donating her time for planning, serving as an MC, supplying food, decorations, and donating Christmas gifts for needy children. Membership in Americorps afforded her the opportunity to help create and implement a variety of service projects aimed at benefiting not only the campus community, but neighboring community as well. Sarah is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Mu Alpha Theta, and AmeriCorps. Honors include Phi Theta Kappa and President's List Scholar. Comments by those who nominated Sarah include: Ms. Allard is a very mature, observant, thoughtful and sensitive individual. Her greatest asset is her sincere desire to help others. Her sense of responsibility makes her efficient and thorough in every task she undertakes. Not only does she excel in academic assignments, she shows outstanding leadership skills within the classroom. Sarah is a non-traditional student who realizes the value of learning everything that she possibly can. She goes above and beyond any assignment that I give and constantly researches areas so that she can learn more. She will be a true asset to society and to the world of education one day. She is among the group of rare students that truly make a difference. She is the kind of bright, energetic and dedicated student who will in the future be a credit to East Central, and she will also take great pride in the fact that she is an East Central graduate. Sarah is a very intelligent, highly motivated, very out-going student who strives to always do her very best and strongly encourages others to do likewise. She leads by example and truly cares about East Central. She is continually working to improve herself, her community, and the communities' perception of East Central.



David Burt

Majoring in business administration at East Central, David Burt is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the Presidents Council, Warrior Corps, Baptist Student Union, Golf Team, Mu Alpha Theta, and the intramural soccer team. Numerous honors include: Phi Theta Kappa, President of the Warrior Corps, President of the Baptist Student Union, Vice President of the Sophomore Class, Vice President of the Student Body Association, Freshman Class Favorite, selection to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges, National Dean's List Scholar, President's List Scholar, and Academic All-American in Golf. Comments by those who nominated David include: David is and will always be a great ambassador for East Central. He has attained a 4.0 GPA, and adheres to very high moral standards. David has truly been a leader during his two years at ECCC which is evident in the fact that he was president of both Warrior Corps and the Baptist Student Union. David exemplifies the qualities that a member of the Hall of Fame possesses: strong Christian values, high morals, strong leadership skills, good communication skills, dependable and reliable. David represents ECCC and the community in an exemplary manner at all times. David is a friend to all, very outgoing. He is a fine young man, as well as an excellent student. David Burt is the epitome of a good citizen. He is outstanding both academically and morally. While participating in numerous extracurricular activities and leadership roles, he has maintained an excellent academic record. Most importantly, however, he has served as a model of integrity and character and has always represented East Central in an exemplary manner.

Jaclyn Evans

A pre-med major, Jaclyn is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the Presidents Council, Warrior Corps, Sigma Sigma Mu Tau, Mu Alpha Theta, EC Environmental Club, the Baptist Student Union, Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD), the Scholars Bowl Team, and serves as a tutor in the Learning Skills Center. Numerous honors and awards include: Phi Theta Kappa, Vice President for Sigma Sigma Mu Tau, President of Mu Alpha Theta, Freshman Mathematics Award, President's List Scholar, Dean's List Scholar, recipient of the Gilmore Endowed Scholarship and the Coca-Cola Community College Scholarship, and selection to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. Comments by those who nominated Jaclyn include: Bubbly and enthusiastic are the ways that I would have to describe Jaclyn Evans. I've never seen anyone who could study and worry about grades and such serious things and continue to have so much fun in college! She is always excited about life and always has such a pleasant attitude. Even when she is upset about something she has a way of making people laugh. In addition to being a simply terrific person, Jaclyn has maintained a high grade point average and has been very involved in campus activities throughout her college career. I believe that Jaclyn deserves to be named to the Hall of Fame because of her unfailing dedication and determination. She has received high grades at East Central and has earned the respect and friendship of many students and faculty. She deserves this honor at ECCC before she goes elsewhere. I think that Jaclyn Evans deserves to be named to the Hall of Fame because she is a very reliable and responsible person. With a smile on her face, she is always willing to help someone. Jaclyn has outstanding leadership qualities and excels in all of her academics. In everything she does, she is not satisfied with anything less than the best.

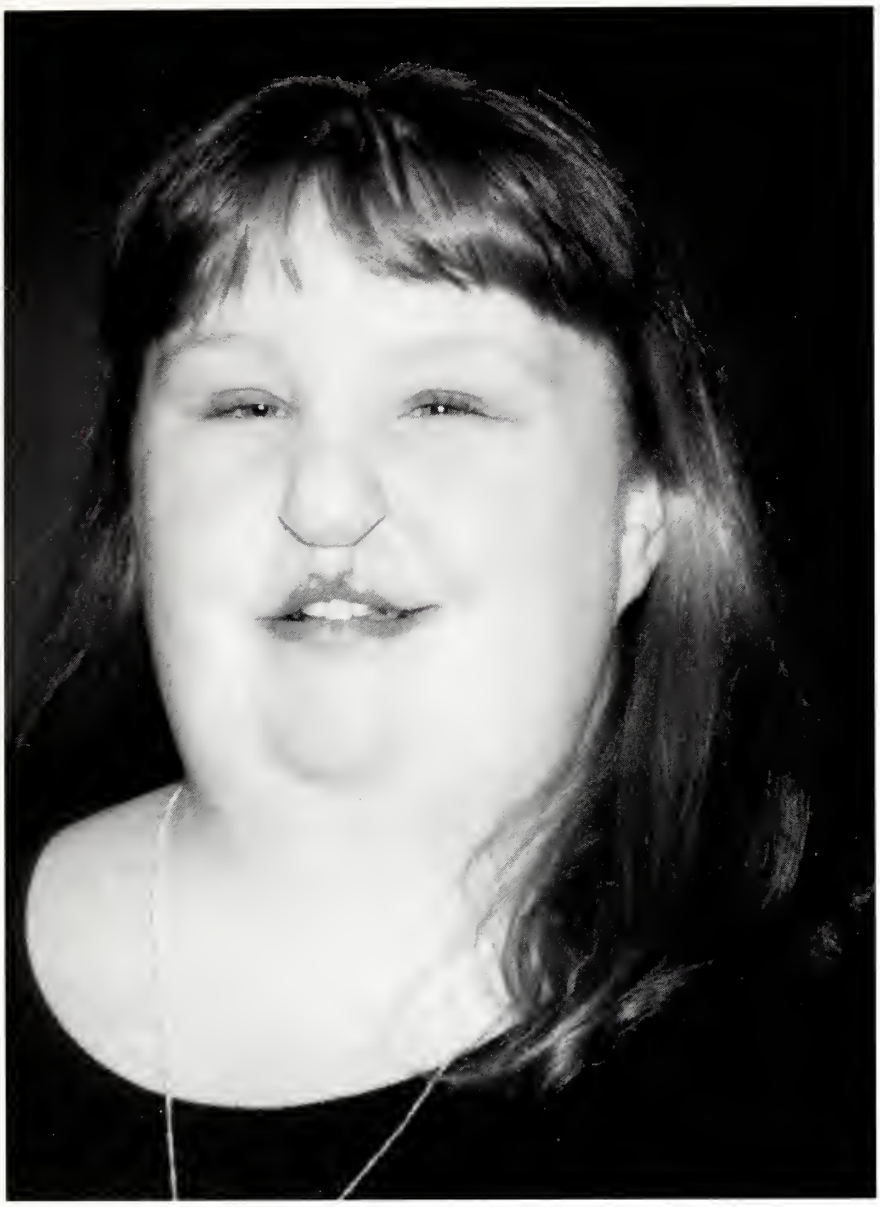
Jimmy Hall

Jimmy Hall is a pre-nursing major who is very active in all organizations in which he is a member. He is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Warrior Corps, the Presidents Council, the Tom-Tom staff, Mu Alpha Theta, EC Environmental Club, Sigma Sigma Mu Tau, the Wo-He-Lo staff, Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD), and serves as a tutor for the Learning Skills Center. Numerous honors and awards include: Regional President for Phi Theta Kappa, Vice President for the Student Body Association, Editor of the Tom-Tom, Vice President for Sigma Sigma Mu Tau, Secretary for SADD, Secretary/Treasurer for Mu Alpha Theta, Vice President for the Environmental Club, Phi Theta Kappa All-Mississippi Academic Team and nominee for the Phi Theta Kappa/USA Today All USA Academic Team, Dean's List Scholar, selection to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges, recipient of the Margaret Mosal Award for Leadership, recipient of the United States Achievement Academy National Collegiate Student Government Award, and nominated for the Phi Theta Kappa Order of the Golden Key Award which recognizes a student's contribution to his college, community and Phi Theta Kappa Chapter. Comments by those who nominated Jimmy include: Even though Jimmy commutes, it is not unusual to see him on campus 12-14 hours each day. He is a great EC ambassador. Jimmy is a very conscientious, self-motivated young man. He very often volunteers for jobs that no one else wants to do. And, he does it without complaining. When Homecoming rolled around and everyone needed a sign drawn or painted, Jimmy tried to help everyone. A few times he even got yelled at for not doing enough for one club or the other. He never complained! He just continued working. As editor of the Tom-Tom, he never fails to come by and get his assignments and check on the progress of the next issue. He has also recruited other staff members to work on the paper staff. Jimmy aspires to be a nurse anesthetist and there is no doubt in my mind that he will accomplish that goal. He is intelligent and committed to reach his goals in life. In addition to being a good student and one who is actively involved in various campus organizations, Jimmy has a great sense of humor and is a very caring individual. He is the kind of student that makes working at a community college so rewarding. I know of no student who is more conscientious, more involved in campus activities and still able to maintain excellent grades than Jimmy Hall. He is very dedicated to doing his very best at EC and never says "no" to any project, even if it means staying on campus late at night.

April

McAdory

A pre-pharmacy major, April is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the Presidents Council, Warrior Corps, Mu Alpha Theta, Wall'O Sound Band, Jazz Band, Collegians, Band Council, Brass Quintet, Sigma Sigma Mu Tau, Baptist Student Union, Diamond Girls, Students in Free Enterprise, and Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD). Numerous honors and awards include: President of Phi Theta Kappa, Delegate to the Phi Theta Kappa regional and international conventions, President of the Student Body Association, President of the Freshman Class, President of Sigma Sigma Mu Tau, Frank M. Cross Freshman Chemistry Award, Ann H. Burkes Phi Theta Kappa Award, Leon Eubanks Kaljyc-Peers Leadership Award, President's List Scholar, National Dean's List Scholar, selection to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges, National Collegiate Student Government Award, and selected as a member of the 2002 Mississippi Community College All-State Band. Comments by those who nominated April include: I have known April all of her life and have found her to be a young lady of exemplary character. She is a self-disciplined individual who has demonstrated high levels of achievement in both curricular and non-curricular activities. April has been involved with numerous activities on and off-campus, demonstrating her leadership abilities and commitment to ECCC. April is an extremely hard working and dependable student. She sets goals and works extremely hard in achieving these goals. April takes full advantage of all the opportunities to get involved in this campus. She loves academics and gets the most out of each class. She's the perfect example of a well-rounded student. She never tires of helping out wherever she can, and her efforts and energy inspire others any where she goes. April truly goes above and beyond the call of duty. A student with the high caliber of intelligence, drive, and superior work ethic of April McAdory makes me wish we were a four-year institution so we could keep her around longer.



Vickie

Powe

Majoring in elementary education at East Central, Vickie is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the Presidents Council, Warrior Corps, the Scholars Bowl Team, Student Education Association, Mu Alpha Theta, EC Environmental Club, the Tom-Tom staff, Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD), and serves as a tutor for the Learning Skills Center. Numerous honors include: Phi Theta Kappa, Treasurer for SADD, Treasurer of the EC Environmental Club, Treasurer of the Sophomore Class, Captain of the Scholars Bowl Team, and selection to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. Comments by those who nominated Vickie include: Vickie will complete her degree in three semesters. She had an accident that prevented her from attending the 2001 Fall semester. She has a 3.945 GPA. She always strives for perfection. Vickie is one of those unique individuals who puts a smile on your face every time you see her. Vickie is a terrific student who has maintained a high grade point average while being involved in numerous campus activities. After she broke her leg just prior to her freshman year, Vickie had to sit out the first semester. Most students would have taken the normal class load that next semester and gone about their business, but not Vickie. She has completed the requirements for her associate degree in just three semesters! I believe that her intellect, her enthusiasm and her determination are just a few of the great qualities Vickie has. As Vickie's transcript attests, she is a superior student. She has taken difficult courses during her two years at EC and has not opted for a "W" when the course became challenging. She has also found time to be involved in campus organizations and to contribute in significant ways. The Scholars Bowl group is comprised of nine outstanding students and Vickie's enthusiasm, preparation, and contributions to the team are outstanding. Vickie is competitive, but Vickie wants the team to win. She is supportive of the other members and is an unselfish player. She is admired and respected by her peers. Vickie is an outstanding young woman and possesses the qualities (exemplary character, scholarship, and leadership) required to be named to the Hall of Fame.

Reflections of Pride

Dr. Phil Sutphin, President

To the students of East Central Community College:

The Wo-He-Lo is your official record of student life at East Central Community College for the College year 2002-2003. This is a book that you will cherish for the rest of your life and one that your future co-workers, children and grandchildren will find endlessly amusing.

Every decade has its unique look. These changes can be followed easily by reviewing newspapers, magazines, and yearbooks over time. Spend a moment looking into the future; what changes will be represented over time that will be depicted by your yearbook?

So, as you pursue your goals in life, your "official student record" will be there to remind you of the good times you had at East Central. When you return to campus for your 50th reunion, your 2003 Wo-He-Lo will be the one book you will bring and you will wonder what has happened to all of your classmates and instructors: they will all look so much older than you!

Have a great life and be prepared to laugh and reminisce for many hours.

Softball 2002

Members of the East Central Community College fast-pitch softball team who received awards following 2002 season include (from left) Anna Moore of Pearl, co-offensive player of the year; Bernice Hannah of Louisville, best defensive player; Paige Posey of Leake Academy/Philadelphia, most improved; and Sommer Avertt of Union, co-offensive player of the year, All-Region and All-State. The East Central women advanced to the Region 23/MACJC Tournament where they place fifth and completed season action with a 22-15 record. To Left: Pitcher Emily Casey of Union, a standout member of the East Central Community College fast-pitch softball team the past two years, was named most valuable player after leading the 2002 Lady Diamond Warriors to the Region 23/MACJC Tournament and a 22-15 record. Among season highlights for Casey was a no-hitter she hurled in an 8-0 win over East Mississippi Community College in first-round tournament action. Casey was also named All-Region and All-State. Mike Anderson serves as Head Coach.

To Right: East Central Community College golf team member Jeremy Stevens of Decatur was named most valuable player following the 2002 season. Stevens, a product of Newton County High School, finished in the top five in six of nine tournaments and was Division III medalist in the Meridan Community College Invitational. Tim Coats serves as Warrior golf coach.

Rodeo Regional Champion

East Central Community College Rodeo Team member Natalie Tillman of Union has a new saddle and belt buckle after winning top honors in Breakaway Roping competition in the Ozark Region, which includes community colleges, four-year colleges and universities in Missouri, Arkansas, Alabama, Kentucky, Georgia, Ohio, Tennessee, Michigan and Mississippi. She also received a cash prize and plaque for her first-place finish and qualifies for College Rodeo Finals scheduled this summer in Casper, Wyoming. Prior to the national contest, Tillman and teammates Chris Byrd of Noxapater and Lindsey Shaw of Perkinston will compete in the Regionals held May 9-12 in Lawton, Oklahoma. Larry Dial of Livingston, Ala., serves as coach of the ECCC Rodeo Team.

The 2002-2003 rodeo season is looking great for East Central. We have the largest number of members ever. Each year the teams in the Ozark region meet for ten rodeos, five per semester. Each rodeo is a three-day event in which members from all the teams compete to earn a position for the top performances, which are held on Saturday night. Our teams' talent is wide spread this year, and East Central is represented in almost all of the events. On October 31 - November 2 our team will sponsor a rodeo where all teams in the region will come to compete. Hopefully, with support from others and a great deal of hard work, our school will be well represented at the college National Finals Rodeo this summer. Remember to support your Rodeo Team here at East Central; they're working very hard.
